

The LINK EDU-RES project (2019-2022)

Joint programmes at doctoral level in a European University network: linking education and research towards the European Education Area

Joint Programmes at doctorate level linking education and research

With the support of the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union

Introduction

- 1. Brief history of the project
- 2. Objectives
- 3. Results: outputs, events, activities
- 4. This event

Brief history of the project

- The LINK EDU-RES project was initiated by the YERUN working group on joint programmes (Chair: Prof. Amaya Mendikoetxea, Universidad Autónoma de Madrid) and fits into YERUN's strategic action on 'Promoting Education Collaboration' which has already published guidelines on joint bachelor and master programmes (4 BA+MA, 9 MA, 1 PhD in the YERUN network).

- Raise awareness about the added value of Joint Programmes at Doctoral level
- Write guidelines and tools for collaborative doctoral programmes
- Organize a Staff Week (Madrid, 14 – 16 November 2018) to:
 - Present the advantages and the challenges of international collaboration at Doctorate level
 - Identify and describe the different types of 'structured mobility' at Doctorate level
 - Exchange good practices and share knowledge and experiences about doctoral training in collaborative contexts
- Encourage the creation of consortia for student and staff mobility around YERUN's identified key research topics: Big Data, Migration, Digital Humanities, Health and Ageing, Sustainability
- Encourage the development of collaborative PhDs in any area in which there is research collaboration

Objectives of the Link EDU-RES project

- Main objective:

“to lay the ground for the creation of joint programmes at doctorate level in a European network of research universities”

- Results:

1. Compile and examine the requirements and regulations for doctoral programmes in different European Countries
2. Analyze the different types of doctoral collaboration that YERUN universities are engaged in
3. Contribute to the debate on innovation in doctoral training by identifying good practice in collaborative doctoral training in a variety of settings
4. Design guidelines and tools for the development and running of joint programmes at doctorate level, which can be used by any European university
5. Integrate research and education by creating consortia of universities around key research topics identified by YERUN universities (Migration Studies, Health and Ageing, Digital Humanities) in order to promote the mobility of researchers and doctoral candidates
6. Contribute to the training of doctoral candidates and early career researchers in transferable skills
7. Contribute to the creation of the European Education Area by 2025 through network cooperation
